

Herald Cameramen Tell Their Story

CONQUEROR OF PACIFIC AND ATLANTIC—By landing at Harbor Grace, N. F., on a flight from Ireland with a crew of three, Major Kingsford-Smith added the crossing of the Atlantic to laurels gained in spanning the Pacific from America to Australia, his homeland. The intrepid aviator flew his plane, the Southern Cross, from California to Australia in a series of hops; from Australia to London across Asia and Europe; thence to Ireland and America.

ANXIOUS HOURS FOR FLYER'S FIANCEE—Miss Mary Powell, fiancée of Major Charles Kingsford-Smith, has had anxious hours at the radio in her home at Melbourne, Australia, listening to reports of the aviator's transatlantic flight.

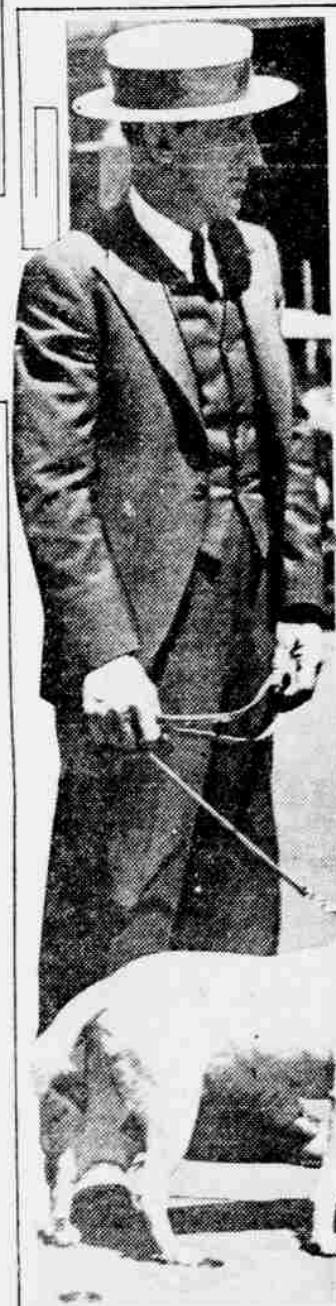

POLICE FIRE ON RIOTERS—Striking dock workers in Rangoon, Burma, riot and are fired upon by police, who kill two and injure many, adding further intensity to the Indian situation.

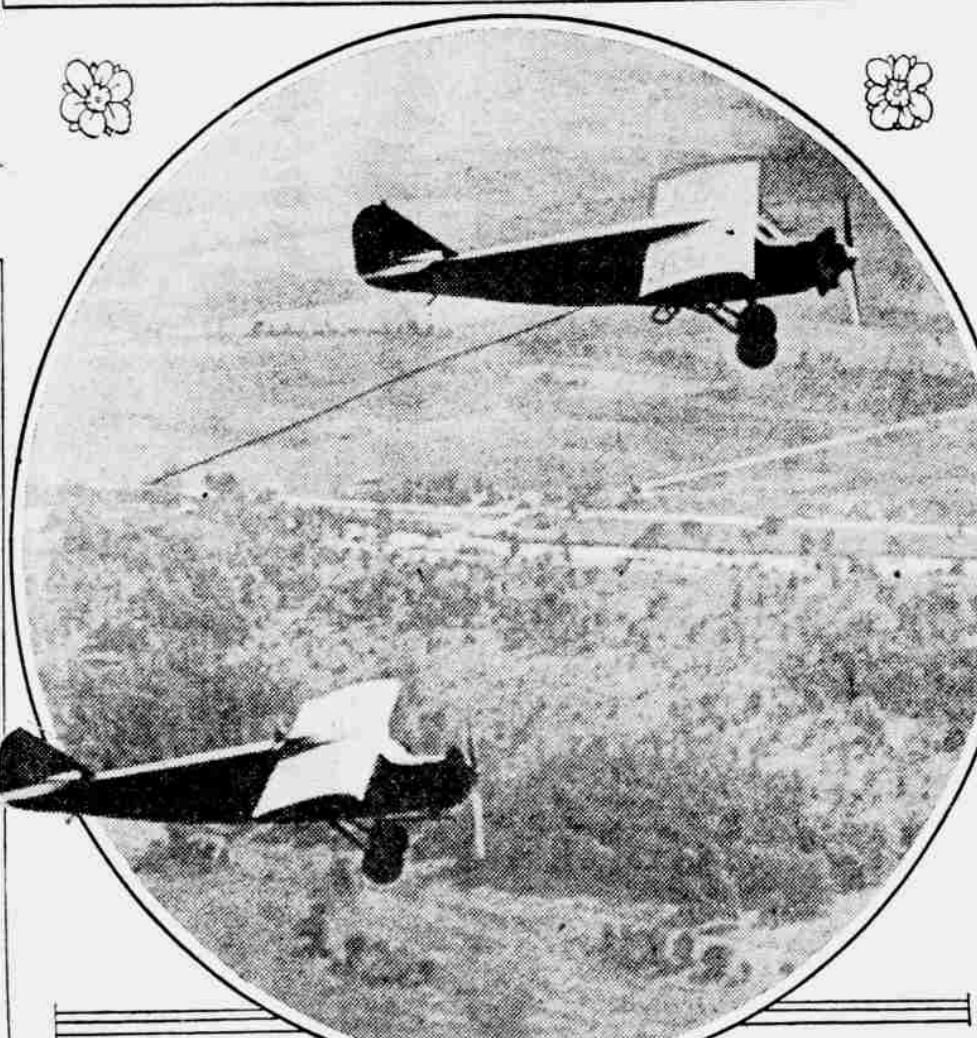

AN INDIAN SUFFRAGETTE—A leader of the women movement in India, Mme. Malati Patwarhan, of Madras, visits Washington in her native costume as a guest of the National Women's party.

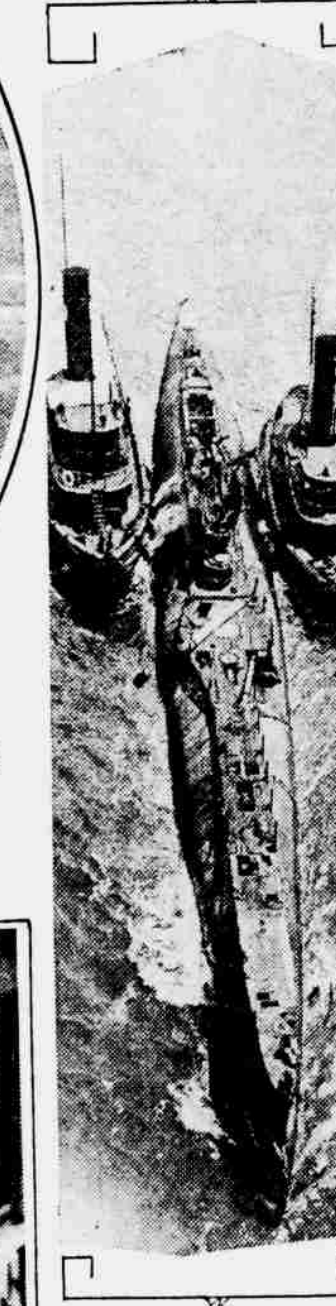

TO BE CANADA'S PRIDE—The 40,000-ton Empress of Britain, launched at Glasgow, Scotland, is to be operated between England and Quebec, Canada. It is described as the finest British liner.

BYRD'S DOG—Igloo, Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd's dog that crossed both north and south poles with him, is taken for a stroll on Fifth avenue, New York, Richard E. Byrd comes to Albany on a U. S. destroyer to receive New York state's distinguished service medal from Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt. Left to right: Captain A. Parker, Bernt Balchen, Harold June, Captain McKinley and Admiral Byrd.

FAR ABOVE THE AIRPORT—Camera catches refueling of Chicago trying for endurance record over Sky Harbor airport—John and Kenneth Hunter maneuvering the Chicago and Albert and Walter Hunter in the refueling plane.

LAST JOURNEY—The ill-fated submarine S-51, which carried 33 of her crew to death some years ago when she sank off Block Island, L. I., goes to the junk heap at Canarsie, Brooklyn, N. Y.

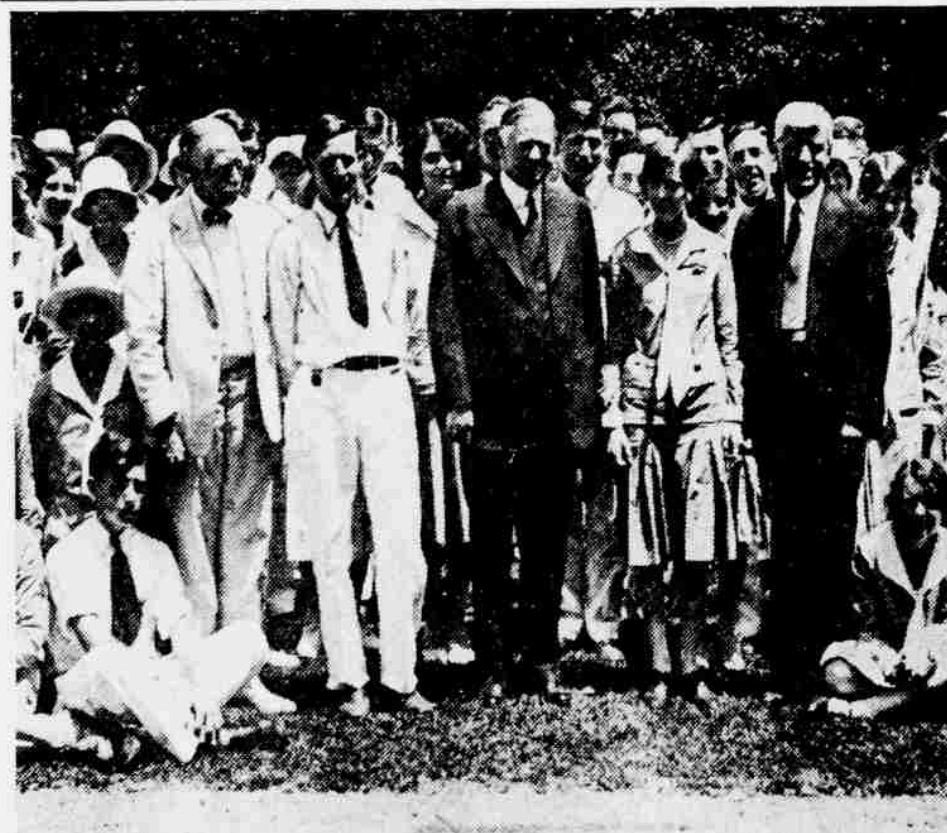

BEAUTIFUL HAIR—Wearing long braided pigtail clear down to her waist, Signorina Fiamma del Greco, sailing from Los Angeles en route from Rome to Shanghai, to join her father, admiral who commands the Italian sea forces in China, attracts considerable attention in America where hair hasn't been so long for several years.

PROHIBITION ENFORCEMENT CHIEF—This is a good portrait of Colonel A. W. Woodstock who becomes prohibition enforcement director July 1, when enforcement is transferred from the treasury department to the department of justice. Colonel Woodstock is promoted from U. S. district attorney at Baltimore.

PRESIDING—Eugene Newsom, of Durham, N. C., retiring president of Rotary International, is shown presiding at convention in the Chicago Stadium.

AS THEY SAID FAREWELL—This photo shows members of 4-H farm clubs bidding goodbye to President Hoover just prior to breaking camp in Washington.

HAPPY FATHERS—Now that their children have gone on a world honeymoon, this interesting photo of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., left, and Percy H. Clark, Philadelphia attorney, exchanging congratulations, deserves a place in the world's news. The picture was made at the Clark homestead in a Philadelphia suburb on the occasion of the marriage of Miss Mary Todhunter Clark to Nelson Rockefeller.